

Ontario

Ontario Statistics Transformation

Office of Economic Policy

Leads Ontario's statistics policy, and responsibility over the Statistics Act (1990)

- ✓ Office of the province's Chief Economist
- ✓ Provincial economic, tax, demographic & program data
- ✓ Statistics Canada Focal Point
- ✓ Data analytics, integration, confidential data
- ✓ Leads ministry & external partnerships

Moving from...

- Under-utilized Data Inventory
- Minimal Coordination
- Disconnected Expertise
- Minimal Collaboration
- Limited Access to Information

"Bridging the Gap"

To move forward and establish a consistent, efficient and standardized enterprise approach of the way we do statistics in Ontario.

Stakeholder Engagement, Open Consultations & Communications

Alignment with Existing Functions and Services

Analysis & Assessment of Future State Business Models

Review, Explore and Modernize the Statistics Act

Lead Implementation of Recommended Business Model

Moving to...

- Leveraging Administrative Data
- Coordinated Network
- Leveraging Expertise
- Stronger Partnerships
- Turning Data to Information

CURRENT STATE

FUTURE STATE

STATISTICS TRANSFORMATION

2017 Ontario Budget • April 27, 2017

"The Province is taking steps to develop business model options for transforming data into useful information for Ontarians, enabling government to draft and implement policies that will grow the economy and create jobs."